

Latinx Film Artists visit Petaluma

The Petaluma Cinema Series and Film Fest Petaluma highlight Latinx Cinema April 27-30 with a number of artists in conversation.

I Carry You With Me

Wednesday, April 27, 7pm, SRJC Petaluma

When Iván's dreams of becoming a chef are stymied by the lack of opportunity in his homeland, he faces gut-wrenching decisions about leaving his family and boyfriend behind and making the perilous journey to cross the US border. The result is an impressively original and visually poetic love story about the sacrifices immigrants make in search of a better life abroad.

Featuring a conversation on Latinx Cinema with Lucho Ramirez, founder and director of the San Francisco Latino Film Festival at 6pm

Please Hold

featured on Film Fest Petaluma's Evening Shorts Showcase
Saturday, April 30, 7pm, Mystic Theatre

A young man's life is suddenly and inexplicably changed as he finds himself at the mercy of automated justice. Nominated for Best Live Action Short Film at the 2022 Academy Awards.

Featuring a conversation with director and 2022 Academy Award nominee K.D. Dávila on the making of Please Hold

Teo

featured on Film Fest Petaluma's Afternoon Shorts Showcase
Saturday, April 30, 3pm, Mystic Theatre

In this cautionary sci-fi fable, a couple visits a gene-editing clinic, hoping to design a child that will find the happiness that has eluded them.

Featuring a conversation with the Chilean filmmaking team Eduardo Bunster & Belén Abarza on the making of Teo

Of Hearts and Castles

featured on Film Fest Petaluma's Evening Shorts Showcase
Saturday, April 30, 7pm, Mystic Theatre

When two lonely men meet on a night out, they push each other to reveal truths about themselves and each other.

Featuring a conversation with director Ruben Navarro on making Of Hearts and Castles

Visit PetalumaFilmAlliance.org for details

Film Fest Petaluma offers SRJC students two discount codes: SRJCFilm offers 20% off a student ticket order and SRJCStudentPass offers $15 off the $35 All-Day Shorts Pass